

Civil/Environmental Engineer-in-Training

Kamloops, BC

About the Opportunity

Our growing Kamloops office is looking to add a capable and hardworking Engineer-in-Training (EIT) to our Kamloops engineering team. As an EIT, you will have the opportunity to work on a wide variety of civil engineering projects. The range of work will differ depending on the practice areas, projects and clients each team works with.

Are you keen to benefit from the support of industry professionals while working on exciting and inspiring projects that make a visible difference in many communities? In addition to learning and project experience, do you see yourself excited to contribute to:

- Honing your engineering skills, applying theory, and providing workable solutions for infrastructure design and planning projects.
- Establishing relationships and acting as the client's representative on-site during construction to gather information, conduct inspections, and ensure that designs are built to specifications.
- Collaborating on team projects employing industry-leading technologies and programs to carry out design and modelling assignments.
- Exploring creative and sustainable solutions together with our clients to build vibrant communities.
- Providing accurate and timely input on technical reports, plans, studies, proposals, and presentations.
- Completing calculations for various water resources, water and wastewater, and process and civil projects.
- Project management and budgeting, including securing funding through ISC processes, developing scopes of work, coordinating sub-consultants, and learning about budgets.
- Preparing tender documents and drafting cost estimates, memos, and reports.

About You

This opportunity is well suited to recent graduates from a civil or environmental engineering program, and up to 2 years of experience will also be considered beneficial. Candidates must be eligible for registration with EGBC as an EIT. In addition, the following attributes would be considered a benefit to this role:

- You have a keen interest in pursuing a career working on a variety of projects in Western Canada that have real impacts in communities.
- You have the drive to take initiative, problem solve, and you enjoy working hard to deliver value.
- You have a keen interest in seeking out opportunities to collaborate with people of varying backgrounds and perspectives.
- You possess a strong attention to detail, and the ability to continually deliver high-quality work.
- You are able to successfully work on multiple projects at a time and thrive in a self-directed work environment.
- You are willing and able to travel to project sites throughout Western Canada.

- You possess a valid class 5 drivers' license for conducting site visits.

About Us
